How it works

The Potter's Village has identified gifts that will help save the lives of children in Uganda. You simply choose a gift for a relative or friend and we'll send you one of our cards for you to give them, explaining about their gift.

Proceeds from these gifts, less the cost of producing the catalogue are spent directly at Potter's Village. As you would expect, we work closely with the management team on the ground ensuring that we give gifts according to their needs.

In some cases this means that it would not be appropriate to provide the exact gift chosen. Put simply; if our team decided they have enough nappies then they could buy formula milk with the donation.

3 Easy Steps

1. Choose the gift (s) you want to give
2. Pick your free card, which we will send to you
You can then personalise the card and send it to your friends or relative, to tell them about their gift
3. Place your order
Simply return the order form in the middle of this catalogue

Now you understand what to do, happy shopping!

Choose a gift.....help save a life

Potter's Village is a Child Crisis and Medical Centre in Kisoro, South West Uganda, established in 2007 by the Rev Canon Jenny Green, who saw that many new born babies did not survive when their families were unable to care for them. Potter's Village now performs a critical service in the community, is well established and respected and has saved the lives of many children. In 12 years it has developed to include the Medical Centre, Special Care Baby unit and Nutrition Unit.

Potter's Village works closely with the local community. When the babies leave the Crisis Centre they and their families continue to receive support. The Nutrition Unit also runs a program of visits to local villages, with the aim of preventing malnutrition.

The gifts in this catalogue were all suggested by staff at the Potter's Village and are items that they can buy locally which will be useful to them.

We rely on donations from the UK so we can empower families to help themselves and give the next generation a better chance of being healthy and independent. Thank you for buying an Alternative Christmas Gift. Through your support Potter's Village can continue to do amazing work and save lives.

Wishing you all a very Happy Christmas.
